RENEE MOSS

CHEM 13 NEWS EXAM

This exam, sponsored by the University of Waterloo, is intended for students who are in their second year of high school chemistry. The exam covers material that well-read senior high school chemistry students are likely to have come across in their course of study. Even though the questions cover the main topics of high school chemistry, some of them can be quite demanding and thought –provoking, making this a challenging exam. The top student in the school receives a Certificate of Achievement and students who place in the 20% of exam writers receive a Certificate of Distinction.
